SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

PAUL HAENSEL PAPERS

This collection reflects the academic career and public service in the United States of the notable Russian economist Paul Haensel. As professor of economics at Northwestern University and Mary Washington College, he lectured and wrote widely on topics of taxation, public finance and international economics. A significant amount of material in the collection details his involvement in debates over taxation policy in the U.S. before and during World War II.

Also of interest are his short stories and novel of life in the Russia during and after the Revolution (Speeches and writings/"Top'," "Zhizn' krutit," "Amerikanskaia duel'"). Many of his writings are brief newspaper notes, articles, or letters to the editor on various subjects; these, along with his notes for speeches, are grouped together by physical form. Only more significant speeches and writings have been given separate entries.

Detailed processing and preservation microfilming for these materials were made possible by a generous grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities and by matching funds from the Hoover Institution and Museum of Russian Culture. The grant also provides depositing a microfilm copy in the Hoover Institution Archives. The original materials and copyright to them (with some exceptions) are the property of the Museum of Russian Culture, San Francisco. A transfer table indicating corresponding box and reel numbers is appended to this register.

The Hoover Institution assumes all responsibility for notifying users that they must comply with the copyright law of the United States (Title 17 United States Code) and Hoover Rules for the Use and Reproduction of Archival Materials.
